@WimboldsleyCPS

Autumn has officially kicked in and I think a lot of us are making the most of this milder weather, before the temperature slowly but surely starts to drop over these next few weeks. We encourage staff to make the most of the outdoor areas for learning where appropriate and hopefully we will see more of this now that the weather allows some shade from the heat and strong sunshine - lets just hope that heavy rain stays at bay! We have recently started back up our monitoring system here in school that assists us with looking at the curriculum as a whole, including specific subject areas to ensure that we continue to offer the best possible practices that we can for our pupils. First up is maths and our maths subject leader Mrs Wynne is already noticing some wonderful going's on around school. Read on to find out more...

MATHS LESSONS HAVE BEEN BUZZING ALL OVER THE SCHOOL and it has been wonderful to speak to our children about how much they have been enjoying their White Rose Power Maths sessions since we started back in September. Each session is full of challenge and curiosity, and it has been incredible to see how much progress is already being made. Watch this space as in the coming weeks, we will be launching 'Arithmagicians', in which the children will be able to practise their arithmetic skills in a fun and engaging way both in school and at home. More information to follow!
